base. The service closed with taps sounded by Parks Kennedy, chief-delegate of the 40 and 8, local World War veterans' organization, who acted as sergeant bugler during the World War.

Following the program members of the Ohio Council of Republican Women departed from Columbus to resume their convention proceedings.

Text of Address

The complete text of Judge Marshall's address given here today follows:

"An Eastern worshipper before he enters the precincts of the sanctuary casts aside his work-day garments lest they profane it with their grossness.

"The true patriot should be inspired with the same sacred emotions as he approaches the final resting places of the great dead of the Republic.

"We stand in the shadow of a great memorial erected to the memory of one of the great army of distinguished servants which Ohio has contributed to the service of the nation. It is the latest but not the last of the siresmen furnished and to be furnished by our great state to serve as helmsman of the ship of state.

"Ohio's part in the civil and military leadership of the nation tells a thrilling story. Ohio has written the brightest pages in her history. Let us call the roll.

"In the Civil War conflict history records the names of Ulysses S. Grant.

George B. Clellan, William S. Rosecrans, William T. Sherman, Phil W. Sheridan, James B. McPherson, Ormsby M. Mitchell, Quincy A. Gillmore, Don Carlos Buell, George A. Custer, James A. Garfield, Rutherford B. Hayes, Edwin M. Stanton, Salmon P. Chase, Benjamin F. Wade, John Sherman, Jay Cooke.

Eight Presidents

"Ohio has contributed eight presidents: William Henry Harrison, Ulysses S. Grant, Rutherford B. Hayes, James A. Garfield, Benjamin Harrison, William McKinley, William Howard Taft, Warren G. Harding.

"Let us call the roll of Ohio members of the United States Supreme Court:

"Chief Justices—Salmon P. Chase, Morrison B. Waite and William Howard Taft.

"Associate Justices—John McLean, Noah B. Swayne, Stanley Matthews, William R. Day and John H. Clarke.

"In the United States Senate—Thomas Ewing, Thomas Corwin, Allen G. Thurman, Joseph B. Foraker, George H. Pendleton, Marcus A. Hanna and Theodore E. Burton.

"Surely the people of Ohio of this generation and all future generations may take pride in their nativity. They should gather greater ambition and find renewed inspiration in breathing the air and treading the soil which has nurtured great souls.

Lauds Act

"It is altogether fitting that on this first celebration of the Armistice as a legal holiday the patriotic women of Ohio should make their pilgrimage to the tomb of Warren G. Harding.

"He became president at one of the critical periods of our history—the period of reconstruction following a colossal assault upon civilization; a period demanding a readjustment of social, industrial, commercial and political relations caused by the maladjustments of the world war but recently ended. It remained for him to complete the task of bringing about treaty relations, and of restoring friendly ties of commerce and intercourse with the nations with whom we had but recently engaged in deadly conflict.

"He came to his task at a time of unprecedented tax burdens, and of stupendous burdens of public debt; a time when the prices of all commodities entering into the cost of living had reached almost prohibitive heights; when wages were advanced to many times the pre-war level, and employers were clamoring for a measure of relief; when tariff revision was an acute issue, and being debated by both producers and consumers; when the merchant marine which had grown to such proportions during the world war as to place our nation pre-eminently in first place as a maritime power, was already beginning to fall into disuse and decay. When excess profit taxes were shackling the business of the country and placing our manufacturers at an unfair disadvantage in all the markets of the world; when the ex-service men who had borne the heat and burden of the day were insisting upon adjusted compensation; when questions of ratification of treaties, membership in the League of Nations and adherence to the World Court were causing eruptions in party councils and rifts in party ties; when a wave of crime and radicalism was sweeping the country from ocean to ocean.

Standards Different

"He became ruler of a people whose standards of morals and conduct were essentially different from those of the previous decade.

"He came to his task well equipped by education, environment, training and experience. Armed by the courage and indomitable will of a long line of honorable ancestry, and with wisdom born of long years of experience in business and public life, and well equipped with stability of character and mental and physical strength, he approached the solution of problems vastly greater than those confronted by any president since the days of Abraham Lincoln.

"Yet in the short space of two and one-half years he established a record of accomplishment which must forever place him among the lists of our really great presidents.

List of Accomplishments

"An enumeration of only a few of the outstanding features of that record will be sufficient to prove our case. They follow:

"1. The abolition of the excess profit taxes.

"2. The adjustment of foreign debts with England and Finland and thereby established precedents which must eventually lead to satisfactory settlements with other debtor nations.

"3. The settlement of controversies of long standing with certain Central and South American countries.

"4. The conference for the limitation of naval armaments and the four-power pact and the ratification of treaties putting the same into complete effect, which treaties were ratified only a few days before his death.

"5. Re-establishment of peace and ratification of treaties with the Central Powers.

"6. Ratification of treaties with Colombia resulting from the partitioning of Panama.

"7. Revision of tax and tariff laws.

"8. Restriction of immigration.

"9. Farmers' aid legislation with particular reference to easier credits.

"10. Establishment of the budget bureau.

"11. The courageous veto of the soldiers' bonus bill.

"12. Measures for aid of wounded, sick and disabled veterans of the world war.

"13. The refunding of portions of our national debt upon a basis resulting in a substantial reduction in the amount of interest.

Peaceful Relations

"His short period of service as chief magistrate was marked by peaceful and pleasant relations with foreign countries, by advocacy and vigorous measures for law-enforcement, by measures for social justice and stability in our internal affairs. He was successful in his efforts for promotion of world peace by advocacy of measures designed to eliminate the causes of war.

"While opposing any movement designed to segregate any class of citizens from the rest of the community, or even remotely to give recognition to the theory that any class of economic producers or any branch of industry could advance its own interest in opposition or hostility to any other class or branch, he nevertheless openly and frankly advocated co-operative associations of producers in marketing their products and co-operative associations of consumers in making their purchases, with a view to bridging the gap between them and lessening the toll that must be paid for passing over it.

Regretted Isolation

"He regretted the isolation and sequestration of our country from the rest of the world during the superhuman efforts of European statesmen to stabilize and rehabilitate world conditions, and in his last public utterance on earth advocated adherence to the permanent court of international justice. He would have accepted any reservations which would not destroy the substantial value of that tribunal. He declared that the difficulties of reaching an agreement were caused by exaggerations and aggravations of minor differences which would be removed if dealt with promptly and in a spirit of conciliation. In that particular he was walking in the footsteps of a long line of distinguished predecessors, reaching from Benjamin Harrison through Grover Cleveland, William McKinley, Theodore Roosevelt, William Howard Taft, and Woodrow Wilson.

Like McKinley

"Like the beloved McKinley, his most constructive thought and the promulgation of his most constructive program was reserved for his last public utterance; an utterance which was intended to be delivered at an early date, but which was not published until after his untimely death. His administration was distinctly a business administration, and he declared before his inauguration that there must be more business in government and less government in business.

History will record that on August 2nd, 1923, Warren G. Harding, the twenty-ninth president of the United States, departed this life. His life was a life of useful service, and his death the death of a martyr, sacrificed upon the altar of service to his country and his countrymen. Lincoln and Garfield and McKinley were martyrs to their country in the fullest sense and in the broadest and deepest meaning and significance of that term.

No Less Martyrs

"Harrison and Tyler and Harding were no less martyrs, though they died without violence. The untimely death of each was due to the arduous and exacting demands of an office which no man of ordinary physique can meet. Warren G. Harding lived and served at a time when great men were in demand, and he measured up to every requirement.

"He had all the essential elements of greatness—modesty, humility, modesty, lowliness of heart plus the spirit of service and sacrifice. He was not a genius, and while his name will never be emblazoned in large letters upon the pages of history, yet he was safe, conservative, sincere, honest and courageous. He had poise, and as a helmsman could make the ship of state ride with an even keel.

"We meet not to mourn his loss, but to meditate upon his absence, not to grieve, but to glorify. By the relentless hand of the grim reaper a brilliant star has been struck from our political firmament. Let us hope that it has only been transferred to higher and purer sphere where it may shine on undimmed forever.

"We would not disturb the rest in which he sleeps. We would not recall him to the scenes of his earthly labors. His part has been honestly and faithfully performed. He has earned his repose.

"Let us say of him as Antony said of his life-long rival, Brutus:

"His life was gentle, and the elements so mixed in him that Nature might stand up and say to all the world:

"THIS WAS A MAN!"

"When a man spends his entire day, taxing the utmost strength of his voice, in directing the thousand and one activities attending the production of a modern moving picture—as in the direction of Gloria Swanson in 'The Love of Sunya'—he must be zealous to guard that which is so vital to his work: the voice. I am happy to say that my constant use of Lucky Strikes never irritates my throat. Furthermore, Lucky Strikes bring that relief and relaxation that I find so necessary while 'on location.'"

FAVORABLE PROGRESS MADE BY RED CROSS

Special Armistice Day Statement Issued in Connection with Drive

THE SHOE MARKET
Down on South Main.

George B. Knapp as general chairman, today issued a special Armistice Day statement telling of the valuable service which the Red Cross is rendering in behalf of disabled World War veterans and their families.

The statement, taken from the annual Red Cross report, shows that in the army, navy and marine corps camps and in government hospitals, where 25,000 disabled ex-service men are being cared for, the American Red Cross has assisted an average of nearly 24,000 persons monthly during its last fiscal year.

In connection with the Armistice Day statement, it was reported that the roll call is making substantial progress with prospects of the campaign attaining its goal on or before Monday, the closing day. The goal set is 2,500 members and a fund of $10,000 to finance the local Red Cross program of relief and charity work during the next year.

Making Canvass

Members of the Federation of Women's Clubs are making a thorough canvass of the up-town business district, soliciting subscriptions in all stores and offices. Solicitation among industrial concerns is in charge of Fred B. Scherff and John A. Schroeter, whose preliminary reports indicate that the roll call will receive generous support from this source.

Work of collecting contributions in localities outside the city of Marion is going ahead under the direction of an organization perfected last week by Mr. Knapp, the roll call chairman, and Miss Mina Doughty, executive secretary of the Red Cross. It is expected that membership in the outside territory will show a substantial increase.

Goal 5,000,000

Although the local roll call began Wednesday, the general campaign throughout the country was scheduled to start today as an Armistice Day event. A total of 5,000,000 members is the goal.

the goal set for the entire national organization.

The local campaign will reach its climax Sunday, when a corps of workers will make a house-to-house canvass of all residential districts of the city.

In the Armistice Day statement issued by local Red Cross officers today it is pointed out that the national Red Cross maintains special services in government hospitals, where in many cases trained medical social workers are provided to help the World War veterans solve their personal problems and also to assist medical authorities in procuring data essential to correct treatment of the various cases. This information is obtained through local Red Cross chapters, of which there are 3,500 in the country.

Hospital Work

Without entertainment provided by the Red Cross, the statement discloses the long days in the hospitals, where many veterans will remain the rest of their lives, would be even more dreary and monotonous. During the last year the Red Cross provided more than 20,000 entertainment and recreational programs. Medical authorities state that this phase of the Red Cross program is almost essential to the welfare of the patients.

Not only at the hospitals and camps, but also at the various offices of the Veterans' Bureau, is this Red Cross service provided. Liaison officers, maintained at these offices, act as the personal representatives of chapters to assist them in straightening out difficult compensation and disability claims and to settle special problems in connection with procuring hospital treatment for veterans.

RESULTS UNCHANGED IN RECOUNT OF VOTES

Few Errors Found When Official Tabulation Is Made by Board

Changes in votes cast in eight contests for city offices and on the $300,000 sewer bond issue resulted from recheck of returns from Tuesday's election at the county board of elections office, yesterday.

The changes, as shown by the official found in the unofficial count, were small and none of the results were affected.

The changes, as shown by the official count, were as follows:

Majority of J. L. Landes, Republican, re-elected city auditor, reduced from 413 to 396; majority of Russell C. Snare, Republican, elected city treasurer, increased from 420 to 435; candidates for councilman-at-large, E. J. Reiter, Democrat, increased six, Joseph Voll, Democrat, increased seven, Ralph Good, Republican, decreased 46, H. E. Prettyman, Republican, decreased one; A. H. Williams, Republican, increased 63; majority of Grant Holmman, Republican, elected fourth ward councilman, increased two.

Majority Reduced

The majority registered against the sewer bond issue was reduced from 2,127 to 2,063, the official count being 1,524 yes and 2,027 no.

Total votes polled by the three members of the city board of education re-elected without opposition, were as follows: Frank C. Gegenheimer, 3,532; Mrs. Minnie King, 3,480 and Hector S. Young, 4,232.

Final count on the election of Marion Township trustees, which was one of the closest contests in the county Tuesday, added five votes to the total cast for J. F. Crissinger, Democrat, and four to the vote of W. J. Thibault. Crissinger, one of the three candidates elected, defeated Thibault by 10 votes.

Files Account

B. F. Waples, elected township clerk without opposition, polled 3,496 votes, the official count shows.

Today the county board of elections is making a final check of the votes cast for the courthouse bond issue and members of the county board of education. This will complete the official count of Tuesday's balloting in the county.

George T. Gern, Republican, re-elected city solicitor, filed his campaign expense account this morning. He listed expenditures totalling $20, all for campaign cards and advertising. All candidates are required to file their expense statements within 10 days after election.

The pay-roll of judges and clerks who served at the county's 72 precincts Tuesday is now at the county treasurer's office, where the precinct officials may receive their money at any time during office hours, it was announced today.

SPECIAL PROGRAM

Missionary Service To Be Held at Caledonia Sunday

Caledonia, Nov. 11—Special programs will be given both morning and night at the M. E. Church Sunday. At the opening of the Sunday School a missionary program will be given, which will include songs by the assembly, a sacred reading by Mrs. C. D. Irer, a duet by Cleo Fink and Lovina Shaffer. In closing Mrs. L. E. Hinker, president of the Missionary Society will present in behalf of the society the missionary text books to the Sunday School Superintendent to be placed in the Sunday School Library. Following the study of the lesson Rev. Fancher will give as his sermon topic "Things That Make a Church Strong."

Epworth League services at 8:30 will be led by Miss Helen Warwick with the topic "The Unnamed Warfare". This will be the beginning of Win My Chum Season.

The regular church hour at 7:30 will be in charge of the young people. A mixed chorus will contribute a group of songs and music will be furnished by the orchestra. Echoes from the State S. S. Young People's Convention will be given, beginning with Candle Service Follow (Glenn) and closing with Friendship circle in charge of the representative, Miss Donna Crum.

LIEUT. W. L. SHERFEY TO UNDERGO OPERATION

Lieut. Walter Lee Sherfey, commanding officer of the Ninth Infantry Guard detachment, stationed in Marion as an honorary military guard at the tomb of President and Mrs. Warren G. Harding, left today for Ft. Hayes where he is to undergo an operation for appendicitis Saturday in the army post hospital.

During Lieutenant Sherfey's absence Lieut. Paul K. Porch, who has just completed a three-year period of service in Panama, will have charge of the detachment.

HENRY C. ANDERSON
Marion Man Stricken at Daughter's Home in Columbus

Henry C. Anderson, for many years a Marion resident, died at 10:30 p. m. at the home of his daughter, Mrs. M. J. Johnson, in Columbus. He had followed a stroke of paralysis and the weeks' illness of his daughter.

Mr. Anderson, who was 79 years of age, was born in Ashby but spent all of his life here and was married at Waldo. He was preceded in death by his wife, Mrs. M. J. Johnson. He was a member of the Methodist Church, and had been a member of the Ashby branch of the church for many years. He was a carpenter while he lived in Ashby.

Surviving are four daughters, Mrs. M. J. Johnson, 127 Lin. St., Columbus; Mrs. M. J. Johnson, 127 Lin. St., Columbus; Mrs. M. J. Johnson, 127 Lin. St., Columbus; Mrs. M. J. Johnson, 127 Lin. St., Columbus.

of various types of paving, as follows: 2,500 miles of brick, two miles concrete, 11 miles Kentucky rock, 2.5 miles bituminous concrete, two miles sheet asphalt, 46 miles bituminous macadam, 27 miles traffic bound macadam.

The 27 miles of traffic bound highway upon which $15,000 of state money will be expended this year, is now under construction. For the remaining 84 miles of the state system, approximately $45,000 of state funds will be expended in general maintenance, the division engineer reports.

Nine road improvements, totalling 21.13 miles, and costing $163,822.06, are included in this year's county construction program. These nine projects, which are now completed or will be completed before the close of the year, are as follows:

Marselles-Gallion-rd., Grand Prairie Township, 2.15 miles, $12,923.20; Mt. Olive-Agostia-rd., Bowling Green and Green Camp Townships, 2.38 miles, $25,226.02; Winemack-rd., Bowling Green Township, 3.42 miles, $23,939.00; East River-Carlington-rd., Richland Township, 4.11 miles, $23,690.50; Dry Lane-rd., Montgomery Township, 1.5 miles, $9,201.34; Kilbury-rd., Marion Township, two-tenths of a mile, $930; Fairground-st. and Madison-av. improvement, Marion Township, 1.91 miles, $14,330.07; Prospect and Upper-Sandusky-rd., Prospect and Green Camp Townships, 3.46 miles, $37,567.53; Gearhiser-rd., Richland Township, 1.5 miles, $9,224.34.

New bridges built during the year totalled $11,410.35, as follows: Dayton-rd., $1,004.40; Marion-Agostia-rd., $1,100.64; Espyville-rd., $2,487.95.

ARE YOU a "TOXIC"

"My trouble began with blackheads. I picked at them, trying to remove them, but instead they got worse and my skin became irritated, itching and burning all the time. Then eczema broke out on my neck. It rashed and spread so that I could not sleep at night and the irritation caused me to scratch.

"I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and after using four boxes of Cuticura Soap and six boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was completely healed." (Signed) Mrs. Ruby Eames, Box 232, Fredericktown, Mo., Feb. 23, 1927.

"Rely on Cuticura Soap and Ointment to keep your skin clear."

Sick Headaches

These miserable sick headaches, those mysterious dizzy and fainting spells are a grim symptom. Usually they indicate a poisoned condition of the stomach that may end in high blood pressure, hardening of the arteries and heart failure. This toxic condition is the result of our modern habits of life which put too great burden upon the vital organs, especially the liver, which then becomes sluggish and fails to cleanse the blood of the poisons formed in food waste. It is generally recognized that the liver occasionally needs a little help. There is nothing better for this, as medical men know, than a little ox gall. Ox gall has been found to be a great natural stimulant for the liver, restoring it to full activity. The genuine, pure ox gall is to be had, dainty and tasteless, in the form of Dioxol tablets. Each tablet represents 10 drops of pure ox gall and costs less than 2c at good druggists. To be sure of getting the genuine, look for the name Dioxol and picture of ox's head on the package.

The entire road system in the county is approximately 511 miles in length, divided as follows: State 101 miles, township 230 miles and county 480 miles. The entire mileage with exception of the township roads is improved. Under the new improvement plan started this year it is expected that eventually the 230 miles of township roads will be surfaced, giving the county a complete network of improved thoroughfares.

In the township road work the county draws the plans and pays for the grading and the townships bear the balance of the cost.

All township and county road construction is done under direct supervision of County Surveyor C. R. Leavens, who also directs all repair and maintenance work.

Plans Not Complete

Plans for next year's road program have not been decided by either the county commissioners or state highway officials. It is not expected, however, that state work will be nearly as extensive as this year, which established a record far above the average. The major portion of state construction outlined for Marion County this time, has been completed, Division Engineer Snyder says.

Three road contracts let by the county this year will not be started until 1935. They are the Denzer-rd., Richland township, 1.5 miles, $10,800.00; Marion-Crawford County line-rd., 3.00 miles, $22,820.33; Likens-Pole Lane-rd., Marion, Scott, Claridon and Grand Prairie townships, 4.02 miles, $10,173.78.

City's Program

Marion's street building and sewer construction program for the year which called for the expenditure of $73,839.70, has practically come to a close. A few of the smaller sewers are still under construction but it is expected the work will be completed before the arrival of severe winter weather.

Four new streets were included in the program, Columbus-st., which was resurfaced from High-st. to David-st. at a cost of $39,380.92, was the largest in the list of improvements carried out this year. The street was resurfaced with asphalt from High-st. to the Hocking Valley tracks by The Republic Asphalt Co. of Dayton and was rebuilt with brick from the Hocking Valley tracks to David-st. by P. Drake & Co. of this city. The contract price of the asphalt was $33,831.40 and on the brick $5,549.52.

Holmes-pl Work

The paving of Holmes-pl, although the legislation for the street was started last year, was included in this year's program. The street was built by P. Drake & Son of this city at a contract price of $8,047.03. Holmes-pl, the third street in the program, was resurfaced with asphalt by J. C. & W. K. Drake at a cost of $2,584.44.

The resurfacing of Wildwood-ct. by The Republic Asphalt & Paving Co. of Dayton, at a cost of $1,750, was the smallest street improvement project in the year's program.

Thirteen sewers were included in the year's program: Six of the 13 were constructed in Oakland Heights at a cost of $1,431.70. A contract for the work was awarded Landon Brothers, of Caledonia who also obtained the contract for a sewer on Osgood-st. from Cheney-av. to Prospect-st. at a cost of $2,880. The sewer on Fahy-st. from Silver-st. to lot No. 5,370 at a cost of $1,052.18 and the sewers on Buckeye and Congress-sts. from David-st. to Henry-st. at their bid of $775.20 for the former and $678.20 for the latter. Other sewers included in the program de gure of the local 40 and S organization, who served as a sergeant bugler, creases during the World War.

Recognized As Holiday

Armistice Day was more generally observed in Marion County than in any former years, due largely to this being the first year that it is officially recognized in Ohio as a legal holiday, action having been taken at the last session of the state legislature.

All county offices, banks and building loan associations were closed for the day, special exercises were held in all schools of the city and citizens generally observed the event by displaying the national colors at their homes and places of business.

St. Mary's school was dismissed during the afternoon to enable the students to celebrate the occasion.

The local celebration will reach its climax tonight with a general public jollification in the up-town district with a spectacular street parade as the main feature. The parade will be followed by an Armistice Day dance and entertainment at the Eagles' Hall on W. Center-st. Admission will be free.

The line of march of the parade will be as follows:

Line of March

Center-st. east from Oak-st. to Baker-st., south on Baker to Church-st., west on Church to Orchard-st., north on Orchard to the Eagles' building.

Fantastic and masquerade costumes worn by participants in one division of the parade and by merry-makers mingling with the crowds on the streets will contribute a colorful note to the celebration. Prizes will be awarded for the best costume worn in the parade and also to winners of a "husband calling contest" which will be included in the closing program at the Eagles' Hall.

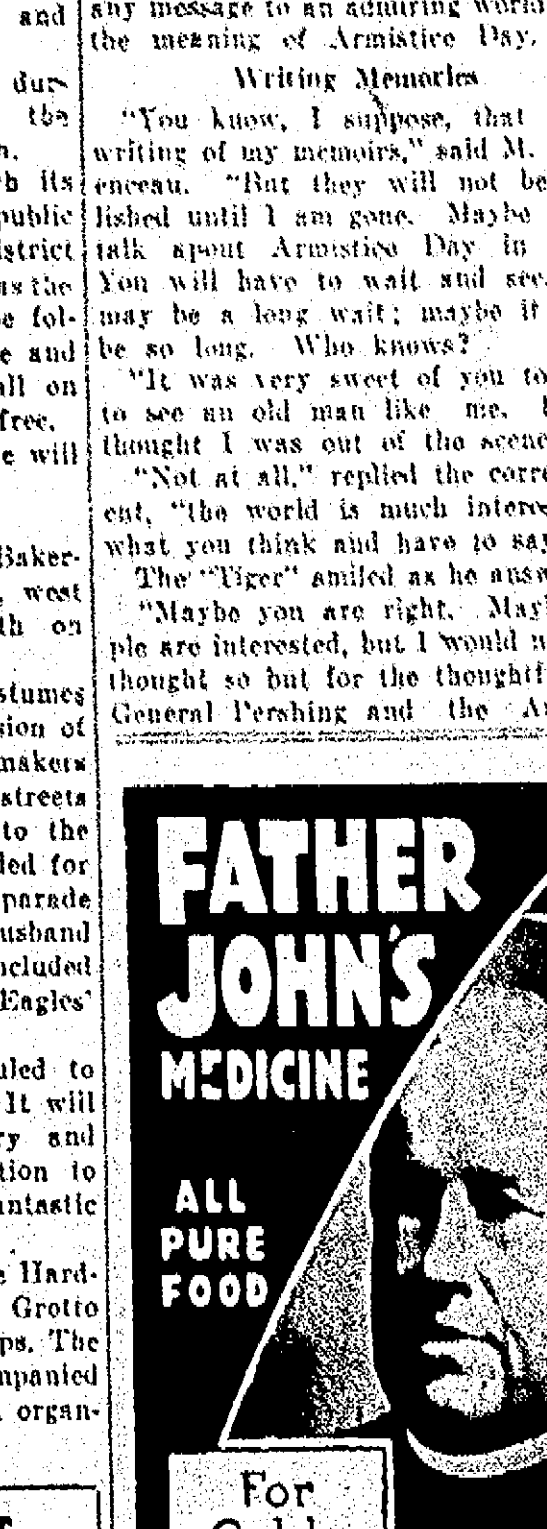

The parade tonight is scheduled to move promptly at 7:30 o'clock. It will include numerous local military and fraternal organizations in addition to persons in the masquerade or fantastic division.

Music will be furnished by the Harding High School and Kadgar Grotto bands and the Eagles' drum corps. The High school band will be accompanied by members of all other musical organizations of the school.

According to a London paper, America is being ruled by petticoats. It'll have to show us. We don't believe there is one in all the country.

A survey shows that foodstuffs to the value of $700,000,000 are annually wasted by spoilage in the homes of the United States. Canners should be compelled to exercise more care in putting up their food products.

Cotton dropped six dollars a bale Wednesday, but the present is hardly the psychological time for inaugurating another "Buy a Bale" campaign.

"Vero Organization Captures All Offices in Philadelphia," read a headline yesterday. We're beginning to suspect that Mr. Vero's friends wasted a lot of good money in that senatorial campaign; that he could have been nominated and elected without it.

Mayor-Elect Lodge, of Detroit, says he will enforce the prohibition laws without the aid of "professional drags or professional snoots." Was ever there ingratitude such as this?

The Nogales Herald is authority for the statement that General Obregon is going to Mexico City to speak in behalf of his presidential candidacy. To a man up a tree it would seem that the action of Calles has made speaking a little worse than a waste of breath.

Manifestly the number of Americans who have had their marital shackles broken by French courts has been greatly overestimated. A Paris cable tells us only 4,835 decrees have been granted in all France during the past three months.

Immediately upon the heels of the stealing of his overcoat while attending church, a New York police judge sentenced a colored man charged with having stolen an overcoat to ninety days in jail. It wouldn't surprise us a bit should an antidote of prejudice hold in this particular case.

The successful candidate in the Detroit mayoral election didn't utter a word in behalf of his candidacy throughout the campaign. No wonder the voters of the City of the Straits put him over by a 12,000 margin!

It has developed that the flood-control program of Mayor Bill Thompson, of Chicago, if put into effect, will protect a great cotton plant surrounded by a 100,000-acre plantation controlled by British capital. We're beginning to believe that Bill Hale has been spoofing us a bit concerning his undying hatred for King George and all people and things British.

The former Kaiser's sister, Princess Victoria of Schaumburg-Lippe, has been denied a church wedding on the ground that the marriage of a woman of sixty-three to a young man of twenty-seven is immoral. The Protestant church authorities over there aren't averse to saying right out what the general run of people should be inclined to think.

The Nerve of It.

Some very odd plans against the seizure and holding of property by the government in enforcement of the prohibition law have been made, but probably none of them has made evident such effrontery—we use this term for lack of a better one—than that of a Connecticut banker in the United States district court in Brooklyn, a day or two ago, in a libel proceeding brought by the government against the steamship, Ansonia, seized off Staten Island, last August, by a coast guard picket boat, with a cargo of whisky and grain alcohol valued at over half a million dollars aboard.

The vessel, which is valued at $200,000, is owned by the Ansonia Steamship corporation, of Ansonia, Connecticut. The banker in the case appeared and presented a mortgage against the steamer for $32,250, for which he asked protection should the government libel the vessel, whereupon it was brought out that the banker in question owned the majority of the stock in the corporation owning the vessel.

In a word, a mortgage sought protection for a mortgage given to him by a corporation of which he was chief stockholder on a vessel owned by it and operated at the time of its seizure as a rum-runner. The really amazing phase of the thing is that the mortgage didn't cover the entire interest of the banker in the vessel.

Decision in the matter was withheld, but if, when rendered, it favors the contention of the banker that his mortgage should be protected, it's easy to predict that henceforth all American rum-running vessels are going to be pretty heavily mortgaged and that attempts of the government hereafter to libel rum-carrying vessels are going to be something in the way of jokes.

Big Game Hunting.

Before us upon our desk is the first page of a big city morning paper presenting a three-column picture of a man and woman posing against the body of an enormous elephant—a great tusk, supposedly their kill. A line run under it tells us that the man and woman are husband and wife, and there is an inset of the latter, a very ordinary-looking little woman, who, according to the text accompanying the art lay-out, is a world-famous huntress.

"While the animals in Africa are huge and ferocious looking," this world-famous huntress is quoted as saying, "they never molest you unless you molest them, which is more than you can say for Chicago with its hit-and-run motorists and other big city dangers."

In other words, this "huntress of big game" holds that it's safer in the jungles of Africa than it is in the city of Chicago. She means, of course, safer for her and others like her who go to Africa with a thirst to kill. And we haven't a doubt but what it is. But how about the wild life of Africa? She hardly will hold that there is much safety for African game, when hundreds upon hundreds are traveling thousands of miles to get there to kill, perhaps from ambush, or, perched high in a tree over a decoy, to slay from such vantage point. We do not know that this particular couple followed either course in bagging their game, but hundreds of others have.

The practice of stalking wild life, which is almost always more inclined to flee from human beings than to attack them, to slay such life and pose for pictures over it to be reproduced in the papers—back home, has become so common that it no longer passes as good sport. The sportsmen of the highest class are now hunting in the African and Asiatic jungles with cameras rather than with guns, using the latter only for the purpose of securing food or in the very exceptional case of being attacked, and it's worth noting that none of these camera hunters, though taking close-up pictures of all kinds of big wild animal life, has yet come to grief, which gives a fairly good line on the danger confronted by the killers in warring upon so-called "big game."

It is unfortunate for wild animal life that its instinct is to kill for food only and not, like man, for the love of killing. Did it possess the human instinct, the hunting game would be far fairer. There would be comparatively little big game hunting if the hunters had to take a fifty-fifty chance. A lot of this so-called sport is simply slaughter.

Alwyn Parker says "the overwhelming mischief of today is the spirit of expenditure." Maybe he has been watching some good housewife turn herself loose with a couple of dollars in the culinary utensil department of a ten-cent store.

Newspapers in India are demanding that the Indian government prevent the entry of "Pussyfoot" Johnson because "he is a propagandist subsidized by an organization bitterly hostile to Great Britain," and which swamps the world with literature to prove that England is a confirmed drunkard, all weaned on gin. Who knows? We may hear next that "Big Bill" Thompson, in the enthusiasm of his war on King George and all things British, has tied up with the Anti-Saloon league.

Pilgrimage to Harding Tomb.

Many hundreds of thousands have made pilgrimages to the tomb of the late President Harding during the past four years. They have come singly, by twos and threes, in parties and in delegations; they have come from far and near, from every state in the union, from beyond our national boundary line to the north, from below the Rio Grande, and from lands across the sea, and we have been glad to have them come and pay their respects to the memory of our one-time fellow-townsmen. And so we are glad to have with us today the Republican women who are assembled from all parts of the state, and were they representatives of the other old party, or any other party, our feeling as citizens would be just the same, for to us of Marion the thought of politics does not intrude in connection with such pilgrimages.

No matter what the nature of the program and the ceremonies at the tomb; no matter what the utterances of the various speakers, whether partisan or otherwise; that our visitors of the day are here to pay their respects at the tomb of one so many of us loved so well is sufficient to make them welcome to the uttermost.

THE NINTH ANNIVERSARY.

Watch Sugar in Baby's Diet.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

A common symptom in young infants is a tendency to constipation. Unless the mother watches the baby carefully, the bowels become very costive. There are many causes, of course, but almost every one of them relates to the feeding. Giving too much sugar is one thing.

In making the formula for bottle feeding a certain quantity of sugar is added to the mixture. This must be carefully regulated. If there is too little sugar there may be constipation. The amount must be regulated according to the age of the infant. But far more common than feeding too little sugar, is the very bad practice of giving too much. And under no circumstances should sweetened water be given in place of plain boiled water.

"The other day a charming woman whom I know very well, wrote to ask me if it is a good practice to give a baby sweetened water every day. There is but one answer to this—No!

Sugar and candy are not for babies and young children. Lime starvation is the penalty a child pays for being fed candy. It destroys the appetite for milk and, in consequence, there is not enough milk to supply the increasing need of that infant. The teeth mineral. Growth will be stunted and the teeth rot of the necessary lime. By no means feed the young child candy.

Why should you create an appetite for sweets by giving the infant sweetened water? It develops an unnatural and improper appetite.

Too much sugar is such a common cause for constipation in infants that it should be thought of at once if the symptom is met. This is true, too, of giving too much fat. It may be necessary to take away all cream or top milk. For a while it will be wise to give plain milk, with the proper proportions of the other ingredients of the mixture. Some baby foods are bought and mixed without milk. If constipation develops after their use, it will probably be necessary to turn to milk and water mixtures.

Orange juice added to the baby's diet may overcome the constipation. This is true, too, of strained cooked tomato juice.

One of the finest things to do for the constipated infant is to add the right kind of gelatin to the feedings. A level teaspoonful of such mixture will almost always overcome the constipation. If constipation is associated with chronic vomiting, it may be set down as due to the same cause. You need expert advice given by your doctor after a careful examination of the baby. Take no chances and above all else, do no experimenting of your own. Babies must not be trifled with, even by a loving parent.

ANSWERS TO HEALTHY QUERIES.

S.W.V. Q.—I have an excess of fat around the abdomen. What exercise would you advise?

A—Bending exercise should be most helpful. Why not join a gymnasium for regular systematic exercise? Reducing in general should also bring about results. For further particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

M.B.B. Q.—Is blushing a habit? What will overcome the annoyance?

A—Yes, in some instances, although the real cause is due to self-consciousness. The latter will disappear as one grows older and gains poise and ease of manner, then the symptom will clear up.—Copyright, 1927.

Dr. Copeland will answer for readers of this paper questions on medicinal, hygienic and sanitation subjects that are of general interest. Where the subject of a letter is such that it can not be published in this column, Dr. Copeland will, when the question is a proper one, write you personally if a self-addressed, stamped envelope is enclosed. Address all inquiries to Dr. Royal S. Copeland, in care of this office.

Poems That Live.

NOVEMBER.

A little old lady choosing batches
Of brocade squares and velvet scraps,
Found remnants of youthful gowns and snatches
Of golden hours and violet dusk:
She twists bright silken thread and catches
Harmonious shades of broken dreams,
And here and there she deftly patches
With fingers frail her quilt's design.

So you, November, kind heaven persuading,
Spread patches green of bowers lost,
And cardinal leaves of tree robes fading
You interlace with golden thread
Of stream, or spiral smoke pervading
The cedar-scented air until
All down the mountain, brown Pan aiding,
You fling your coverlet far and wide.

Editorial Comment.

WHAT BUSINESS ASKS OF CONGRESS.

Last week a committee of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States called at the White House and presented a statement to President Coolidge in which certain ideas of the business interests of the country were set forth and a legislative program was outlined embracing four specific suggestions.

The first of the four has to do with the neglected problem of coordination of federal departments and bureaus. The principles of economy and efficiency, it is declared, demand a reorganization of the federal machine and the elimination of all waste and duplication.

The second suggestion concerns the postal service. Rates, the statement says, should be revised to encourage maximum use of the service by all groups and activities, and discrimination should be done away with once for all.

Flood control is treated briefly, but from a national point of view, and the recommendation is that it be acted upon as "a single project" under scientific direction, and divorced from dubious or political schemes of every kind.

As regards taxation, the recommendation is that the war taxes which still remain should be largely reduced or replaced, this action being now possible without jeopardizing the sound fiscal policy of the nation.

Finally, the statement attacks recent paternalistic and bureaucratic tendencies and demands a return to the first principles of American government. The pressure on federal authority to invade private enterprise is constant and insidious, the business interests declare, and to yield to that pressure is to cripple initiative, increase the costs of production and of government, and invite a train of other evils as gratuitous as they are un-American.

President Coolidge's sympathy with this excellent outline does not need to be stressed. In his communique to congress business has reason to expect an earnest plea for the constructive reforms which it advocates.—Chicago News.

CHECK ON GOVERNMENT.

Colonel McCormick, in his definition of a newspaper, stated in his recent address in Boston and already quoted in these columns, named the publication of news, distribution of advertising, and providing a check on government as the three functions of a daily paper.

The check on government which the newspaper supplies is vital. As Colonel McCormick said, no constitution has ever been able to provide it. But this check comes in the form of news, and, as the Chicago man declared, it is lucky it is news, for otherwise it would not be published.

In a popular form of government, abuses are bound to creep in unless there is constant watchfulness on the part of the governed.

It is one of the functions of a newspaper to uncover wrongdoing in government, not because a paper is in any sense a crusader, but because the detection and publication of wrongdoing is news. It is obvious that a newspaper unable to stand on its bottom can not do it, for such a newspaper is the servant of those who subsidize it. A newspaper the representative of a group can not do it, for the group will insist on being protected first.

Only a newspaper that is self-supporting, that owes nothing to any individual or interest outside its owners and publishers, can do it. It is such a newspaper that is the independent newspaper, and it is the only one wherein the public can place its confidence.—Portland Express.

Generally speaking, to the politician who says prohibition is not an issue the wish is father to the thought.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

An Electric Sense.

BY GARRETT P. SERVICES.

Will man sometime develop a new sense? It seems not unlikely, considering the highly organized nervous system that he possesses, in connection with his superior brain and his rapid conquest of nature's secrets. Indeed, there are people who flatter themselves that they already possess more than the normal human sense. The imagination can hardly conceive the revolution in the aspect of the world and the character of human life that would be produced if we should awake some morning in possession of two or three new senses, enabling us to see and enjoy as many new, and perhaps previously unsuspected sides of nature.

The most promising life of development seems to lie in the direction of a finer appreciation of electric influences. This recalls some remarkable experiences recently made upon the "space sense" of carrier pigeons. The way of the bird to the air and the secret of the homing bee or cat that finds its way home, or of the homing bird, speeding like a bullet to its hive, have been standing mysteries from time immemorial. If I remember aright, a poster of that kind was put to job.

Well, European pigeon fanciers think they may have hit upon an explanation of the mystery involving the influence both of radio waves and of sunspots affecting the earth's magnetism.

The story of one among a considerable number of the recent experiences is as follows: Eight kilometers from Valencia, Spain, in the field of maneuvers of the Spanish army at Paterna, where the army radiotelegraphic stations are placed, on a fine, clear day, while an antenna was in action with a wavelength of 900 meters, a carrier pigeon that had been released to fly to Valencia showed signs of confusion, being unable to orient itself toward its home, although the latter was within range of sight. One after another other pigeons were released, and they all showed the same evidences of confusion. When the wavelength of the radio station was increased to 1,200 meters the disoriented pigeons presented a curious spectacle, flying about in spiral tracks. The radio was then turned off, whereupon the pigeon being released immediately oriented itself correctly, while the pigeons which had been flying about in disorder during nearly three-quarters of an hour, at once set off in a straight line for their destination.

Other experiments have indicated that pigeons on long flights follow the magnetic lines of the earth, and that they are often puzzled and thrown off their proper track, passing over regions where the magnetic lines are deformed into looping loops. Experiments in Germany have shown that pigeons when en route lose their sense of direction if they penetrate a zone under the influence of Hertzian waves, but recover, and resume the proper direction, as soon as they leave the affected area.

Magnetic storms caused by the influence of sunspots, when the lights of the aurora borealis flickering in the sky give visible evidence of the disturbance of the earth's magnetic elements, have been observed to drive swarms of birds out of the air; at least the coincidence is striking as strongly to suggest, and the effects described seem suggestive, and the effects described seem suggestive, and the effects described seem suggestive.

All these things are possible, but it is not necessary to jump to the conclusion that the radio machines are affecting the weather or disturbing the nerves of mankind—unless it may be through bad music.—Copyright, 1927.

Peter Tchaikovsky—Composer.

BY COZETTE DOUGLAS.

Probably the greatest of all the Russian composers, and undoubtedly the one who gave to the world the richest presentation of the haunting beauty of the Russian folk-songs, Peter Ilitch Tchaikovsky holds a firm place in the world of music.

He was born in Volkonsk on May 7, 1840, but moved to Petrograd with his parents at an early age. His father was a director of the Technological institute and desired that little Peter follow in his footsteps. However, Peter showed such an aptitude for music that when he was a young man he was much sought after in Petrograd society, as he could improvise the most fascinating waltzes. This, in addition to his good looks and refinement, established his position in society.

Through the influence of Anton Rubinstein, he entered the conservatory at Petrograd and eventually became professor of harmony at the conservatory of Moscow.

Only July 6, 1877, Tchaikovsky married Antonina Ivanovna, a marriage which has been called a "bribe and misguided incident." His first love was Desires Artor, a singer with an Italian opera troupe, who had refused to marry him because he asked her to abandon her stage career.

The real romance of Tchaikovsky's life, however, seems to have been the friendship of Mme. Nadzhdova von Meek. In 1876 he aroused her interest through his impassioned music and she began to help the composer by commissions for work. In 1877, however, she granted him an annual allowance of about $3,000 on condition that he would never attempt to see her. She was his confidante and to her he confided his innermost thoughts and ambitions through the medium of letters.

He was one of the first Russian composers to travel and to introduce the music of his native land—which he passionately loved—to the outside world. An anecdote is told of him that when he and his brother were shown a map of the world he kissed the map of Russia and spat upon all the other countries except France, to which country he is distinctly Russian.

Tchaikovsky's music is distinctly Russian. It is said "his handling of the modern orchestra, combined with his strong emotional character of his themes, make his work as important in its way as that of Liszt or Berlioz." He expresses gloriously the deep emotionalism of the Russian people to the extent that Count Leo Tolstoy exclaimed as he listened to one of Tchaikovsky's compositions: "I have heard the soul of my patient and suffering people."

Tchaikovsky died in St. Petersburg on November 6, 1893, from cholera contracted by drinking a glass of unfiltered water.

Dinner Stories.

"Are you going to try to save the country?" "The country is safe enough," answered Senator Sorghum. "The need of salvation is for some people who have been endeavoring to run various affairs."

"What we want," said Farmer Cornissel, "is more consideration for the iller of the soil."

"From the capitalists?"

"No! From the farmhands."

Mamie came sauntering up the front steps, having been to call on a new young couple in the neighborhood.

"How are they?" she was asked. "Do you like them?"

"Oh," said Mamie, "they are nice enough people, but they Lindebergh you to death."

"They Lindebergh you? What do you mean?"

"Well," said Mamie, "it was 'we' this and 'we' that and 'we' that and 'we' this whole time I was there."

New York Day by Day.

BY O. O. MINTYRE.

New York, Nov. 11—Thoughts while sitting at those so-called shops selling cheap cases with insect nuda holes. Top-handled daggers. John Erikson, cables who have discarded straw hats for those of patent leather. Those choosers with blackberry tongues.

Hungarian needlework and Venetian lings. Haberdashery sign: "Stocks to boils." The steady old man who sells lapsing balloon ducks. A derby named Jimmie Walker." More flags flung out, few know why. New York wears parties on its sleeve.

Collegiate pants still fluff. Kentucky one types who sell corn valves. And fast women who seem to sneer up to pat scalos Clifton scarfs and jeweled. Apartment houses with colonial fronts, bricked courts and wiggled doormen to breeches.

The Italian nobleman who wears a fast in his Homberg hat. And eats at Ch Frank quick lunch sign: "This is not a cooking, but it's good grub." Those expatriate mahogany desert-like first floor offices. Round-shouldered vases and Turkish rugs.

The Fifth avenue five-o'clock parade swayed. Expressions glum, lips crooked, rounded. Old boys with butler phrases, wives are cooking their dinners. Scold Britishers. Roaming auto Atris. Wing lars. Puff ties. Fin-de-siecle mustaches. Wire-haired fox terriers with red legs. Squat, waddling Scotties. And razor-thin hounds. Venerable ladies with A. D. T. corte. Actors whose fame has exploded swinging canes. The round Joseph Her helmer. The purr of pigeons around cat's eaves.

Shirt-sleeved window-dressers making for another day. Trim mannikins from the making periods. Night watchmen, bring pipes and chairs to doorways. Butlers through the grilled doors of the few remaining mansions. The son of a Swedish masseur has scaled the social heights.

The hair bobbers are not exactly worried but they may be if it keeps up. Many girls of that world known as chic are applying with slight loose knots of hair at the nape of the neck. Which means a number of ladies are letting their hair grow. Several shops have changed in to a public relation counsel—update for press agent—and propaganda is being circulated to show shiny hair is not going the way of the puff suit. Such fads as short hair often disappear quickly as they appear.

In one of those dip-your-doughnut cafes Forty-Fourth street, the counterman is lighting the stool slitters with slight-of-hand tricks. He makes knives and forks disappear in thin air, takes flowers out of paper napkins, draws black coffee from a silver urn and places it before you—all milk.

Jim Tully comes to town those days a successful novelist. His books sell well and royalties are high, yet Tully likes to pay hotel bills by writing advertising circulars, such for the inns at which he stops. Tully and circus life has made money hard to get—that is for mere food and lodging. Tully with a wild mop of red hair, heavy jaw, appearing ill at ease in store clothes, looks though he knows much of the crooked about which he has so entertainingly written. It was Rupert Hughes, I believe, who once asked him when he was riding the rails. Tully has mellowed a little in his new way, but he is still a little embittered by the past.

Tully was once a roughneck circus man.—Copyright, 1927.

Twenty Years Ago.

This day was Monday.
Having served eight years and three months and with but one day more to serve before time of his release, Lucius Barry, alias "once Robinson," formerly of Marion, died today in the Western Penitentiary at Pittsburgh. She had been convicted in West Maryland county, Pennsylvania in 1902 of murder. Flossie, the five-year-old daughter of and Mrs. E. Shaffer, was badly burned by gas explosion at her parents' home at north Greenwood street.

The trial of Caleb Powers, for complicity in the murder of Governor William Goebel, Kentucky, was begun at Georgetown, Kentucky.

Citizens of the West Side were demanding more storm water drainage from the council, the condition then being almost bad as it is now.

MARION TOBACCO COMPANY
Marion, Ohio.

To the People of Marion County:

That we may acknowledge the hearty support given us by our friends in our recent struggle for a just cause, we desire to publicly thank each and every one who aided in any way. The Chiropractic Bill was defeated by the small margin of 115 votes in the city of Marion and by 369 votes in the County, which proves conclusively that chiropractic IS growing by leaps and bounds and is the final proof that our opponents had cause for alarm and for the drastic measures which were taken. In view of the fact that there are more than 7,000 Physicians and surgeons in the State of Ohio and only about 700 Chiropractors, we feel we have won a real victory and by a clean campaign. The issue although defeated has given us information which could have been gained in no other way, since it is only by the voice of the people that we are enabled to learn how great a stronghold the science of chiropractic has in our state, and the profession is not only gratified but surprised to know our strength.

Dr. Paul Strand, of Youngstown, the chairman of the Campaign Committee of the Ohio State Chiropractic Society, makes this announcement: "We appreciate deeply the loyalty of our friends who have worked for months in the interest of this bill.
We have just begun to fight. It took years to abolish slavery and to obtain woman suffrage and prohibition. Chiropractors in Ohio will eventually succeed in freeing themselves from the medical yoke as they have in twenty-nine other states."

In deepest sincerity we appreciate your friendship and loyalty.

ATTEND MEETING OF MISSIONARY GROUPS

Wesley Chapel. Scene of Wy-andot County Gathering;
Program Given

Prospect, Nov. 11 — Mrs. D. M.
Bailey of Delaware, district corresponding secretary, Mrs. T. J. Mills, of Marion, district organizer, and conference mite box secretary, and Mrs.
W. M. Keller of this place, who is the district treasurer, all of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Methodist Church attended the Wyandot County group meeting, which was held at Wesley Chapel, six miles southwest of Upper Sandusky.

The meeting was in charge of Mrs.
G. B. Hale of Upper Sandusky, who is the county president. Mrs. C. T.
Williamson of Upper Sandusky, announcer, had charge of the devotion.
Mrs. Hale gave a talk on "Looking Backward," and Mrs. Inez Fox, of Wesley Chapel, a talk on "Thinking Forward." Mrs. Mills gave a talk on the mite box program for the year.
Mrs. Keller spoke on finances. Mrs.
George Ash, of Carey, who is the district president, talked on "Our Special This Year," which is membership.
Mrs. C. F. Smith, of Upper Sandusky, gave a talk on "Stewardship." In the afternoon Mrs. Bailey, who for three years has been teaching in some of the home mission schools in the south, gave an interesting talk on her work. Mrs. B. E. Walker, of Carey, gave a short talk. A cafeteria dinner was served at the noon hour in the Community House.
Members were present from Salem,
Upper Sandusky, Little Sandusky and Carey Auxiliaries.

For a soapy, sudsy bath—use Melo

Like to have plenty of suds when you're bathing? Then don't bathe in hard water—city water as it comes from the faucet. Soap combines with the hard water, and forms a dirty ring around the edge of the tub. That's scum. And that's certainly not pleasant to bathe in. Hard water can be made soft. Just put Melo in the water. Then watch the soap lather! Then watch the suds come! Then watch the scum go! Have you discovered Melo as a pleasant aid for bathing? Get a can today at your grocer's.

REVIVAL SERVICE

Attendance at Calvary Evangelical

Attendance at the evangelistic services at Calvary Evangelical Church is reported to be increasing each night. In his sermon, "The Responsibilities of the People and the Church of Christ," based on the text, 11 Kings 4:3-7, Rev. E. Haddaugh said in part, "The church never faced the responsibility it does now, and the church needs more holiness to face that responsibility. Holiness cannot be put on, it is sought for and given by the power of the Holy Spirit when we fully consecrate ourselves and this is necessary to carry on."

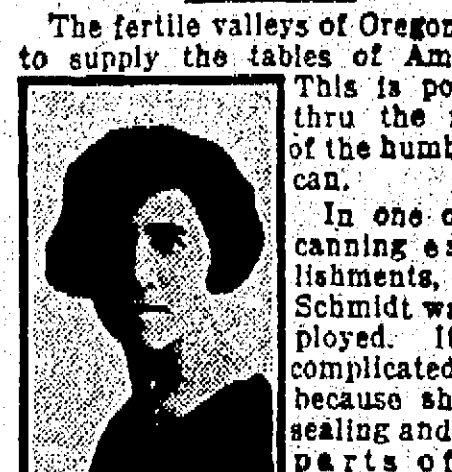

Rev. James Bolt, pastor of the Bennett Street Nazarene Mission, gave the prayer. A duet, "When They Sing the Golden Hallel," was sung by Rev. and Mrs. James Campbell and a solo, "No Silver Nor Gold," by Mrs. Campbell. Tonight will be Sunday School night.

MISSIONARY MEETING

Mrs. Fred Brading reviewed a chapter from the study book, "A Straight Road Toward Tomorrow," at the meeting of members of the Woman's Missionary Society, Oakland Evangelical Church, yesterday afternoon in the church parlors. Mrs. Thomas White presided for a devotional service and Mrs. Earl Klinger and Mrs. O. E. Russell contributed readings. A playlet, "The Moslem Women," was presented by six of the members. The next meeting will be Dec. 8.

IS A HEALTHIER STRONGER GIRL

Because She Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound
The fertile valleys of Oregon help to supply the tables of America. This is possible because of the magic of the humble lin can.

In one of the canning establishments, Julia Schmidt was employed. It was complicated work because she did sealing and other parts of the work. It was strenuous work and she was not a strong girl. Often she forced herself to work when she was hardly able to sit at her machine. At times she would have to stay at home for she was so weak she could hardly walk. For five years she was in this weakened condition. She tried various medicines. At last, a friend of hers spoke of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Miss Schmidt gave it a trial. "Everyone says I am a healthier and stronger girl," she writes. "I am recommending the Vegetable Compound to all my friends who tell me how they suffer and I am willing to answer letters from women asking about it." Julia Schmidt's address is 113 Willow St., Silverton, Oregon. For sale by all druggists.

ARMISTICE DAY IS OBSERVED

Gallon Business Places Closed
During Afternoon Hours;
Services Held

Gallon, Nov. 11—Armistice Day was fittingly observed in Gallon today with schools of the city closed and business places closed during the afternoon hours. Flags and appropriate patriotic emblems were everywhere displayed and a number of organizations gave programs in accordance with the spirit of the day.

The proclamation issued by Mayor H. T. Hartman asked that all people of the city unite in silent prayer from 11 a. m. to 11:02 a. m. and at the designated time church and city bells were tolled in recognition of the occasion.

Schools in all parts of the city had special programs yesterday, which served a dual purpose, that of celebrating the legal holiday and of bringing to a close a successful observation day to a close a successful observation day.

Students of the East building listened to an interesting and inspiring talk "Armistice Day Thoughts" given by Rev. Walter Fowler of the Free Methodist Church.

The American Legion representatives conducted the chapel exercises at the Junior high school yesterday morning and led a musical service of favorite national songs followed by the pledge to the flag.

Rev. Philip Auer of the Peace Lutheran church addressed the assembly of students at the morning chapel hour at Gallon High school delivering an eloquent memorial message.

Members of the school III-Y club and the Girl Reserve organization also had part in the program and Theodore Schaefer, school organist, beautifully interpreted a group of well known patriotic melodies.

STUDENT MAJORITY ENGAGE IN BANKING

67 Per Cent of Bucyrus School Pupils Maintaining Accounts

Bucyrus, Nov. 11—Out of a total of 1,735 students in the city schools here, 1,292, or 67 per cent, deposited approximately $150 as a weekly average in school savings accounts here Nov. 1. The school bank is opened in all schools here Tuesday, when the records are converted into banks with students acting as representatives.

Of the seven schools in the city, five of them banked 100 per cent the week of Nov. 1. "The high school turned in the lowest percentage, only 34 per cent of the students making deposits. Since the beginning of the present school year 620 new accounts have been started here. Efforts to bring the high school percentage up to 100 per cent will be made by the high school bankers during the next few weeks.

Bucyrus ranks with the leaders in the nation in the movement for school bank deposits, according to a statement made by Norman Shaw, representative of the New York Banking Service.

CHESTER DELIVERS ADDRESS AT KENTON

Franklin County Prosecutor
Speaker for Community
Armistice Observance

Kenton, Nov. 11—Claims that the increase in crime the past few years has been an aftermath of the war, and attributable directly to the unrest among the ex-service men, due to their experiences in the war, were declared untrue and groundless by Hon. John J. Chester, Franklin County prosecutor, in addressing the community Armistice Day observance here this morning.

The speaker explained away such assertions as popular misconception. "The increase in crime since the war," he said, "is attributable to two things principally, prohibition and the increase in criminal laws passed by the various state legislatures. More than 3,000 new criminal laws have been passed by them in the last four years."

WEEKLY CLASSES

Upper Sandusky Children Being Given
Religious Training

Upper Sandusky, Nov. 11—The Ministerial Association of Upper Sandusky is organizing weekly religious training meetings for the children of the second and third grades. The children are dismissed from school at 3 o'clock each Wednesday afternoon to attend the religious education classes at their respective churches. The course includes Bible story telling and memory work. The ministers of the several churches are conducting the instruction except in the Methodist Episcopal Church, which is in charge of Miss Myra Moody and Mrs. Burt Miskinen. There are approximately 75 children attending these classes.

CANDIDATES TIED, BALLOTS BURNED

Iberia, Nov. 11—When the votes of the two precincts of Washington Township, Morrow County, were counted, it was found that there was a tie between J. R. McDonald and Raymond Miller. Each received 105 votes. The matter was taken up with the deputy election supervisors at Mt. Gilead, but in the meantime the ballots were burned. It has not been decided how the tie will be decided.

PROGRAMS GIVEN

Students of Kenton Schools Join in Armistice Day Observance

Kenton, Nov. 11—Students of Kenton public schools joined in the general observance of Armistice Day today with patriotic programs. At the Kenton high school the chapel services were devoted to the observance. Mary Born delivered an oration on peace while Norman Stafford gave a reading. Ridgeway Kenton, Nov. 11—Two mild cases of infantile paralysis have been reported at Patterson and Mt. Victory, it was announced today by County Health Commissioner C. C. McLaughlin of Dunkirk.

These cases are not considered serious, it was learned, and the state department of health did not consider it necessary to close schools in the town.

The Charles Tobey home in Mt. Victory was quarantined, one of the children under school age being ill. No new cases have been reported from Ridgeway and vicinity where the schools and churches were closed Tuesday and a ban placed on public gatherings following the quarantining of five homes.

PARADE TO FEATURE NINTH OBSERVANCE

Marysville Armistice Day Celebration To Be Held in Union Hall

Marysville, Nov. 11—Armistice Day was to be celebrated in Marysville today with a parade at 5 o'clock this afternoon in which members of the Civil, Spanish-American and World Wars and auxiliaries were to take part. Following the parade, members of these organizations will stage a celebration in Union Hall tonight. Members of the Ridgeway Legion post have also been invited.

The program consists of a pot-luck supper, followed by singing and an address by F. G. Bittkofer, superintendent of the Marysville Public schools. Responses will be given by representatives of the organizations present. This will be followed by dancing and card playing.

In observance of Armistice day, the Marysville Legion outlined a unique program. The plans sanctioned by Mayor A. F. Robinson provided that every Marysville citizen cease from his labor from 10:58 till 11 this morning in honor of those who lost their lives in the World War.

SOPHOMORE CLASS PARTY HELD AT FRYMAN HOME

Richwood, Nov. 11—The Sophomore Class gave a party at the home of Miss Pauline Fryman, Friday night. Various games and contests and music were the features of the evening. Lunch was served. There was a number of guests and most of the high school teachers were present.

VILLAGE OFFICERS ELECTED AT NEVADA

Nevada, Nov. 11—The following officers for Nevada village were elected Tuesday H. L. Kuenzli, mayor; Adam Frank, marshal; Frank Holmes, clerk; R. E. Swartz, treasurer; members of council, E. T. Burnside, Charles H. Golling, H. G. Fox, J. A. Williams, William Ebbmann and E. D. Jump; members of school board, Myron V. Case and Frank Martin.

A playlet, "The Arrival of Billy," was given by a group of the members of the circle and a quartet composed of Jay Braun, Helmo Parker, Elizabeth Shearer and Jeanette Lee furnished music for the occasion.

Pictures of "by-gone" days of mothers and daughters were thrown upon a screen. The mothers were also lined up for a spelling match. The prize was won by Mrs. Mabel Newlove. There were 39 per cent for the meeting.

COGNOVIT JUDGMENT

Bucyrus, Nov. 11—Charles W. Roberts and Louis Donneworth, local garage proprietors, today took a cognovit judgment in the common pleas court here for $1,000.19 against Charles and Agnes Evans of Willard.

FIND BAR, BLOOD

Police Conduct Fruitless Investigation
Following Discovery in Barn

Bucyrus, Nov. 11—A pool of blood and a crow bar found in an old barn near the W. A. Riddell Co. property on Laneast, have incited a fruitless police investigation as to their origin. The blood and crow bar were discovered by Miss Edith Knoedler when she entered the barn to get her car. E. Ghisi, night watchman for the Riddell company informed the police that a group of boys were fighting there Wednesday night, and that one of the boys may have been struck or cut.

FORMER RESIDENT OF GALLON IS CLAIMED

Mrs. Sarah E. Kunkel Dies at Piqua After Year's Illness

Gallon, Nov. 11—Mrs. George James was called to Piqua yesterday following the sudden death of her mother, Mrs. Sarah E. Kunkel, which occurred there late Wednesday night. Mrs. Kunkel has been in ill health for over a year. Funeral services will be held from the home in Piqua, Saturday, and the body will be brought here for burial in Fairview cemetery.

Mrs. Kunkel was well known in this community, being a Gallon resident for many years. She was born northwest of the city at Windfall, 75 years ago, and was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Flick. Her marriage was to Eli Kunkel of this city. Surviving her are two daughters, Mrs. George James, Gallon; Miss Maude Kunkel, Piqua, and one son, Dr. Robert Kunkel also of Piqua.

BUCYRUS STUDENTS GET TYPING AWARDS

Gertrude Schimmolar Writes
51 Words with Eight Errors
in One Minute

Nov. 11—Four students in the Buckyrus High School, Gertrude Schimmolar, Lewis Tallman, Mildred Rogers and Elizabeth Adams have added their names to the list of Buckyrus typewriting champions.

These four students, all seniors, in a recent contest made a sufficient record to win necessary awards and certificates for themselves.

Miss Schimmolar wrote 51 words in one minute with eight errors, entitling her to a silver pin. Doris Tallman and Elizabeth Adams each wrote 28 words with four errors and Mildred Rogers wrote 26 words with but one error. The last three get certificates.

While in stigmatism inspires no enthusiasm even in the thrifty.

A THREE DAYS COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with a new action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist.—Adv.

Greed And Fear Greatest Causes Of War, Says Spafford

URGES PASSAGE OF PEACE PLAN

American Legion Commander Also Advocates Universal Draft Law

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 11—Asserting that the greatest causes of war were greed and fear, National Commander Edward E. Spafford of the American Legion, in an Armistice Day message today, urged the passage of universal draft laws, maintenance of the naval five-five-three ratio and enforcement of the National Defense Act of 1920.

"We may and will have peace," Spafford said, provided the three-plank platform of the Legion prevails.

The message followed: "Only a few weeks ago your representatives, your representatives of good will, returned from France. Representing the American Legion and I believe the veterans of America, we journeyed overseas to express to the entire world our desire for peace.

Memories of France
"We visited the graves of our war dead and the battlefields where during the war our men sought rest after the hardships and horrors of the front line. The cemeteries with their white crosses stretching out in long rows sent forth their mute appeal for an enduring peace. The welcome of the French people in unmistakable terms expressed the love of France for America.

"The meeting of peoples face to face brings out slight difficulties and brings to all mankind that message of mutual understanding and good will. The meeting makes them understand that there is no need for fear.

STABBING PAINS IN STOMACH

Immediate and Safe Relief

Sudden pains in your stomach are sure signs of excess gastric acid. As time goes on this acidity may lead to gastritis or be the cause of dangerous stomach troubles. These first signs of pain and indigestion should never be neglected, and quick relief can be obtained by taking a little "Pape's Diapiesin" after eating or when pain is felt.

"Pape's Diapiesin" instantly neutralizes the excess stomach acid and soothes, heals and strengthens the inflamed stomach lining, thus promoting normal, painless digestion and helping to prevent future trouble.

For many years millions have used "Pape's Diapiesin" for the speedy and sure relief of indigestion and allied stomach troubles. Follow their example! Get a 40-cent package of "Pape's Diapiesin" from any drugist; no matter how severe your pains and stomach troubles have been you will get instant and safe relief. —Adv.

MEMORIAL TO FIRST LEGIONNAIRES

Gen. Charles Summerall and Major General James H. McInnis standing under the plaque unveiled in the chapel of St. Cornelius at Governors Island, N. Y., in memory of Corp. James B. Graham, Priv. Merle D. Hay and Priv. John B. Knight, the first three to give their lives in France.

Comptreux where Marshal Foch and the German plenipotentiaries signed the pact which nine years ago today brought to a close the greatest war the world has ever suffered.

"All along the western front the scars of war are still to be seen. New houses have been built, the plough has turned under the blood soaked soil but many of the mothers are still in black, men with one arm or one leg work in the fields, cemeteries with the white crosses of the Allies or the black crosses of the Germans appear at frequent intervals along the entire front, calling aloud to the world, 'Let us have peace.'

Appeal for Peace

"The members of the American Legion and the people of America will harken to these appeals for peace. We will do what we can to meet the peoples of the world in a just and honest way. We will not impose on the peoples of any other country and in our might like a brave man girded for a great race we will carry the olive branch to all the world.

"Our dead must not have died in vain and never again must our hospitals be filled with casualties of another war. We must be trained and strong as the warriors from whom we spring but we must be as gentle and forgiving as was our mother.

"It is generally conceded that the

Marion Star Bureau
Ohio State University
Columbus, Nov. 11—Several Ohio State University students of Marion County and vicinity have received cadet officer appointments in the Infantry Brigade of the Reserve Officers training Corps at the university this fall.

An exceptionally large number of cadet officers were given appointments this year owing to the large number of freshmen enrolled in the unit. Nearly 125 appointments were made for commissioned officers in addition to many sergeants and corporal appointments.

The names of two Kenton and two Richwood students were included on the list of officer appointments published at the university recently. Howser C. Hunt, of Richwood was promoted to the office of Lieutenant Colonel and Jason B. Simons, also of Richwood obtained a second lieutenantcy. Hunt is a senior and Simons a sophomore in the College of Engineering.

Paul W. Albert and George S. Pyle, both of Kenton, were named second lieutenants. William C. Nungesser, of Galion, a junior in the College of Liberal Arts has been promoted to second lieutenant and William P. Cross, of Delaware, is a platoon sergeant. Cross, a sophomore in the College of Engineering, was a private in the Cadet ranks last year.

A political party goes on long after its initiatory idea has become obsolete.

DEATHS OUTNUMBER BIRTHS IN OCTOBER and Born in County, While 17 Die, Report of Statistician Shows

Forty deaths and 17 births occurred in Marion County outside the city of Marion during October, according to a monthly report of vital statistics prepared today at the office of Dr. J. H. Smith, county health officer.

The deaths included six boys and eight girls. Causes of death are listed as follows: heart disease 2, cerebral hemorrhage 2, uremic poisoning 2, influenza 2, and one each from cancer, pleurisy, accident, tuberculosis, stroke, chronic myocarditis and pneumonia.

RESUMES DUTIES

Miss Beulah Smith, W. Church-st., resumed her duties as a teacher at Central Junior High School yesterday afternoon after being called to Somerset a week ago because of the death of her mother.

To the flood refugees

the
served a million meals
a day

HOMELESS, hungry, stunned—300,000 residents of the Mississippi Valley watched the work and strains of a lifetime drift away in the surge of an angry flood.

Then help came. They turned to the Red Cross as millions of others have turned before in time of need. And as always—the Red Cross, your Red Cross, was ready.

The Red Cross fed them—gave them 1,000,000 meals a day when the flood was at its height; the Red Cross clothed them, gave them expert medical attention and shelter through months of anguish and despair.

And now the Red Cross is rebuilding their homes, helping to replace the belongings which they poured so hard to acquire.

Your membership and support of the Red Cross over the past years is what is making this work possible.

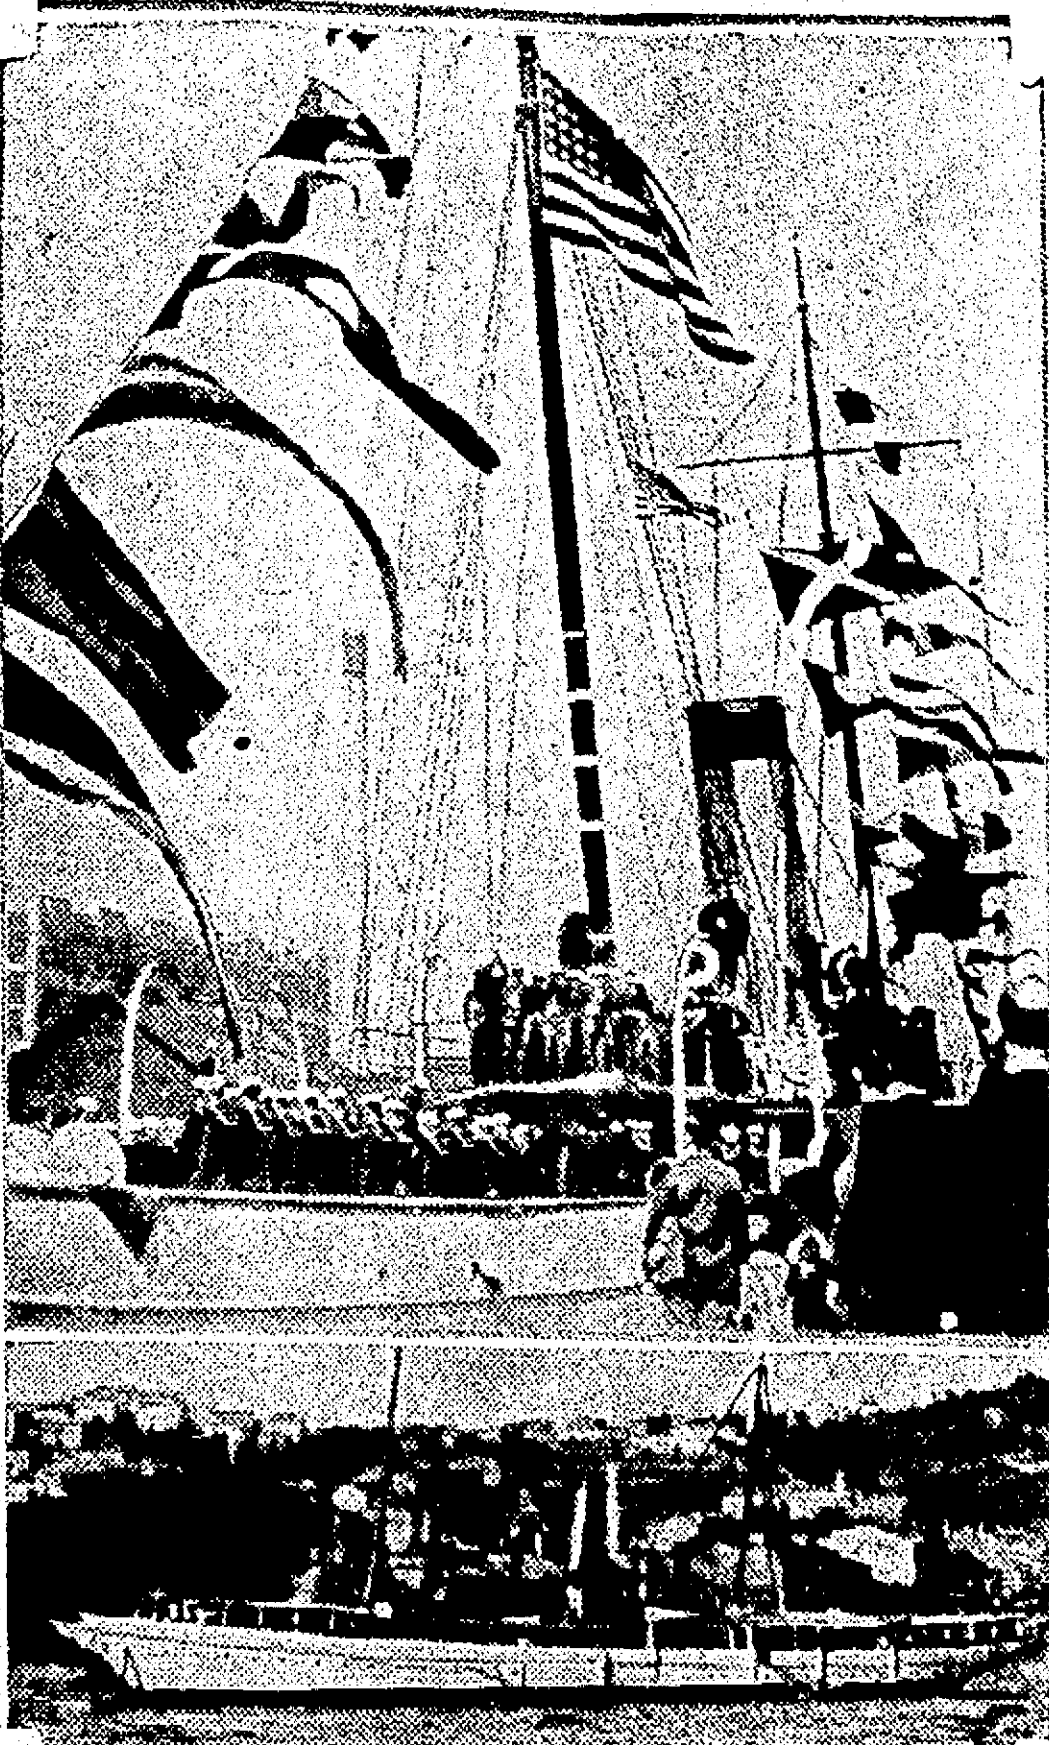

If you believe in helping humanity, you believe in the Red Cross. 5,000,000 Members are necessary if the needs shall be met.

Scorpion Mustered Out In Flood of Memories

THE navy's most famous ship is through.

After 19 years of foreign service marked by dramatic and romantic incidents, the U. S. S. Scorpion has been sent into honorable retirement.

She started in by covering the advance of American troops at Siboney, Cuba, in 1908, in the Spanish-American War. She helped in the destruction of four Spanish gunboats off Mazatlan in a short time later.

The Scorpion went through several revolutions in Santo Domingo, then was sent to Turkey, and, in 1909, she aided in rescue work at the Messina earthquake. She was involved in Turkey during the World War, Allied air-men mistook the vessel for the Sultan's private yacht and repeatedly tried to blow her up. Luckily for the Americans, their aim was always poor.

In 1918 she was used as a "prison" for British soldiers captured by the Turks. After the war, she was released from internment, and kept busy by the U. S. Food Commission in carrying supplies to the starving people of the Near East.

Plans were made for the annual Christmas exchange party Dec. 7 at the home of the president, Mrs. Chris Laucher at the meeting of members of Trinity Lutheran Ladies' Aid and Mission Society Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles Hoch, Gooding-Davis-st. Mrs. Laucher presided and members of the society presented the monthly topic, Miss Hazel Niggle entertained with a reading. Plans were discussed for the hake sale to be held Nov. 19 at the Miller Market. Guests were Mrs. Harry Kneiber, Marion; Mrs. Fred Dutt, Mrs. Katherine Behner and Mrs. Benjamin Alwendinger and son. Lunch was served.

BIRTHS NUMBER 52 HERE DURING MONTH

Thirty Deaths Occur in October, Vital Statistics Report Shows

A decrease of 13 in the number of deaths and a decrease of seven in the number of births during the month of October in comparison to the preceding month, are shown in the report of Registrar Esther Dickson, of the city health department, for the month made public today.

October births numbered 52 and included 30 girls and 22 boys while September saw the arrival of 69 babies including 38 boys and 31 girls.

Deaths for the month numbered 30 and, as in the preceding month, heart disease led in the causes, seven deaths having been attributed to this cause during both the months of September and October. Apoplexy and hardening of the arteries each was responsible for three deaths while two deaths each were attributed to paralysis, tuberculosis, influenza, intestinal diseases and cancer. There was one death each from ulcers and septicemia and five deaths were listed from miscellaneous causes.

There were no deaths from accidental causes during the month. During September there were five deaths due to accidents.

JURY DISAGREES ON SUIT FOR DAMAGES

Report Made After Body Deliberates More Than Six Hours

Hearing of the damage suit brought by Miss Elsie Jones against her brother-in-law, Bert Radebaugh, to which the plaintiff sought judgment of $10,000 for injuries received from a gun-shot fired by Radebaugh when he mistook her for a burglar, resulted in disagreement of the jury in the court of common pleas last night.

The disagreement was reported at 11 o'clock last night after the jury had deliberated more than six hours. It was reported that the vote at that time was eight in favor of the plaintiff and four for the defendant. The size of the judgment favored by the eight jurors could not be ascertained.

The case will come up soon for a new trial, according to plans outlined today. Frank Wiedemann of the firm of Wiedemann & Patton, attorneys for Miss Jones, said that his firm and client are anxious to have an early date set for the new trial.

Radebaugh was represented in the trial by Donithen & Donithen.

The suit was the outcome of an accidental shooting which occurred at the Radebaugh home, 5 N. Greenwood, where Miss Jones was residing, about midnight on Feb. 25, 1925. Miss Jones had been entertaining company and was going up the stairs to retire when her brother-in-law, according to accounts of the incident, fired a shotgun from the hall above, the shot lodging in the left side of Miss Jones' body.

Radebaugh says that in the darkness which prevailed it was impossible for him to recognize his sister-in-law. Miss Jones on the other hand claimed that a light was burning in the hallway and that if Radebaugh had been reasonably careful he could have recognized her. Miss Jones, according to testimony introduced in her behalf, is still suffering from effects of her injuries and will probably never recover completely. She was in the city hospital three weeks following the shooting.

Witnesses taking the stand yesterday included the plaintiff and defendant, Mrs. Lewis Friend, mother of Miss Jones, Harry Jones, her brother, Radebaugh and his wife, and Dr. H. S. Hays, who attended the plaintiff following the accident.

Miss Jones is now residing with her mother at her home on Fairground-st.

WOMAN IMPROVING
The condition of Mrs. Lloyd W. Bartlett of Ashby, injured when the car in which she was riding crashed into a tree on the Mt. Vernon rd., Wednesday night, is reported to be improved at City Hospital today. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dillman of Ashby, owners of the car, who also were slightly injured, are reported to be recovering nicely.

DRINK WATER FREELY
IF KIDNEYS BOTHER YOU
Also Take Salts if Back Hurts or Bladder Troubles

Flush your kidneys by drinking a quart of water each day, also take salts occasionally, says a noted authority, who tells us that too much rich food forms acids which almost paralyze the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weak, then you may suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue in coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids, to help cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; can not injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.—Adv.

EIGHT OF NINE CARS STOLEN HERE FOUND

Sedan Stolen Near Hotel Harding Recovered on Florence-st

With the finding last night of the Buick sedan belonging to J. S. Winbiger, which was taken from near Hotel Harding Wednesday night, the police have recovered eight of the nine cars which have been taken by burglars in the last two weeks.

The car was found parked on Florence-st. and aside from showing evidence of having been driven for a considerable distance, was not damaged.

A Falcon Knight, belonging to John W. Martin, 215 Summit-st. and which was taken last week, evidently by an automobile thief, is the only one of the nine cars taken in the last two weeks that has not been recovered.

While using every means possible to stop the practice, the police are handicapped in their war on the forger by the automobile owner who, police say, extends an invitation to the thoughtless boy, by leaving the door of his car unlocked with the ignition key in place.

In nearly every case where a car is taken by a forger the police maintain, it is not a premeditated plan, but is done on the impulse when the unlocked door and ignition ready to turn, holds the invitation. More care on the part of the car owner in locking the door of his machine and removing the ignition key, is urged by the police.

SUBJECT OF DEBATE CHOSEN BY STUDENTS
Harding High School Team To Meet Two Groups This Year

"Resolved that the Present Method of Uniform Taxation Should be Abolished in Ohio in favor of the Classification of Property Method" is the subject for debate this year of Harding High School debaters. It was announced by T. D. Bain, coach, today.

Eighteen students from the three classes, including two experienced debaters, Leona Hordley and Jane Canterbury, are interested in this year. The debate will be held during the period from Jan. 15 to March 15. The question, suggested by the Ohio Association, deals with the bill four times defeated in the state legislature regarding Ohio taxation methods. J. W. Jacoby, local attorney, is a member of the advisory committee on taxation.

YOUTH HELD ON CHARGE OF CHANGING CAR TAGS
Charged with driving an automobile with a license plate intended for another machine, Frank Snyder, 21, giving his home at Columbus, is being held at police headquarters pending a hearing before Municipal Judge William R. Martin, Saturday morning.

Snyder was arrested at Main and Center-sts. at 11:20 o'clock last night on an investigation charge when a check of the license number on his machine made by the police revealed the fact that he was using a license plate taken out for another machine.

POLICE CAPTAIN BETTER
The condition of Police Captain James S. Moody, who is confined to his home, 930 Sheridan-st. by illness, is reported to be slightly improved today. Captain Moody was first taken ill early last week. A specialist from Columbus Caledonia, Nov. 11.—An unusually large attendance was present at a meeting of Vera Chapter, No. 61, O. E. S. held in the Masonic Hall Wednesday night. Mrs. Olive Timson and Mrs. Irene Williams gave interesting reports of Grand Chapter. Election of officers was held resulting in Mrs. Leona Jee being chosen worthy matron; Charles Rorick, worthy patron; Miss Bertha Durbin, associate matron; Mrs. Allen Hill, secretary; Mrs. Loretta Underwood, treasurer; Mrs. Olive Timson, conclave; Ellen Fate, associate conclave; Mrs. Margaret Lafferty, trustee for three years. The next meeting will be held in two weeks at which time arrangements will be made and date set for installing the officers. Following the session, the social committee served hot soup, wafers and coffee.

Attention K. of C. Marion Council will take part in the Armistice Day Celebration Friday evening. All members are urged to be at the hall at 6 p. m. sharp.

ANOTHER ACID TEST FOR DRY FORCES

New Reorganization Plan Cannot Be Put into Effect Until 1928

Washington, Nov. 11.—Another final "acid test" for federal prohibition enforcement was announced today at the treasury department.

Despite the fact that the reorganization law has been effective since last April, the new set-up cannot be put in effect until early next year. It was designed by Gen. Lincoln C. Andrews before his retirement.

Meantime, hampered by uncertainty, the dry army is making time, awaiting the day when it may be given "a real trial."

Congress will be asked for $13,000,000 to enforce prohibition in the 1928 budget. No increase over this figure will be demanded by the treasury until the dry bureau determines whether or not the present enforcement system is effective.

An unprecedented rush for prohibition jobs has made it impossible for the civil service to complete examinations and certify lists of eligibles for the treasury. There are 10 applicants for every one of the 3,500 jobs in the dry army, despite the low salary scale of from $1,944 to $9,000 annually.

HUNTING FATALITY

Streets of Marion

WITH THE STAR STAFF

TAFTS AND SON AT Y. M. C. A. MEET

Former President William Howard Taft and wife are here shown with their son, Charles F. Taft, 2nd, who delivered principal address at 75th anniversary celebration of Y. M. C. A. in Washington. Young Taft is the Ohio prosecutor now pressing murder case against George Henus, "king of bootleggers."

some of the "wilds" not so far across the border.

SCORES of Marion's good women, of the staunch variety who look upon the flattened half-pint bottle and weed with the utmost disdain, were shocked beyond all comprehension during the last few weeks when they received in a personally-addressed box three packs of a well-known brand of cigars.

Cigars! Horrors! There they lay—three packs. And, in their boxes cover they looked—well, almost "nice."

Some were dumped into the trash barrel.

Others were hidden that the family might not find them until the mystery of their arrival could be traced. Still others, it may be said, were smoked, by both their recipients and the male portion of their household.

Then, several days later along came a neat letter from the source of the cigars. The tobaccoish billet-doux inquired if the recipient liked the brand and added that the company making the "pills," recognizing that the product was already finding favor among the fair sex, decided to send out some samples, and if one liked them, wouldn't one write in and tell the manufacturers?

And, thus the trend of advertising and the subsequent encroachment of an erstwhile male occupation into mindily's boudoir and the similar encroachment of the boudoir into the realm of the erstwhile man's boon companionship.

GARRETT PUTNAM SERVIS, probably one of the most widely read scientists in America, for years the author of popular science articles published in newspapers throughout the land, and now writing for The Star was born at Sharon Springs, N. Y., March 24, 1831, the son of Garrett Putnam Serviss, Sr., and Katherine Shelp.

He took his bachelor of science degree at Cornell University in 1872 and became a bachelor of law at Columbia University two years later. He was employed as an editorial writer on the New York Sun until 1892 and since then has been a lecturer and writer on travel history and astronomy. He married Henrietta Gros in 1907.

Serviss is the author of "Astronomy with an Opera Glass," "The Conquest of Mars," "The Moon Metal," "Pleasures of the Telescope," "Other Worlds," "The Moon, a Popular Treatise," "Astronomy with the Naked Eye," "Curiosities of the Sky," "Round the Year with the Stars," "A Columbus of Space," "Astronomy in a Nutshell," "The Second Deluge," "Eloquence," and "The Moon Maiden." He is a member of two clubs, the Authors and Cornell University. His home is in Tenny, N. J.

parade which promises to be one of the most colorful, if not the most colorful, in the history of local Armistice Day celebration.

PROBABLY one of the most highly prized volumes in Marion and vicinity is now owned jointly by J. W. Burtch, 237 Chasest, and his sister, Mrs. Albert Layman, North Vernon, Ind.

It is an old leather-bound book entitled "Indian Captivity," written more than 100 years ago by Rev. O. M. Spence, a pioneer Ohio preacher and an ancestor of the present owners. It is a narrative of the author's experience as an Indian captive in 1790.

Reverend Spence was captured in the neighborhood of Cincinnati and held captive several months before he finally made his escape. His story is of particular interest to residents in this community and those living near Upper Sandusky since his story deals with this territory.

Following his capture near Cincinnati Reverend Spence was closely guarded and was brought north when the tribe came into this part of the state to visit the Wyandot tribe.

In this volume Reverend Spence describes the country, mentioning small settlements that since have grown into cities.

Mr. Burtch, who came into possession of the book with his sister through his father claims the narrative is as interesting as any he has ever read. He said that he read it first as a boy and has reread it several times since.

A GROUP of Marion men that recently returned from a vacation in the "wilds" of Canada, a report apparently sent out by the publicity department of our northern neighbor.

Only five per cent, the report asserted, went into Canada for inspiration other than the natural kind. Ninety-five per cent, was the proud boast, went to see the scenery. Only the five per cent inquired of the way to permit offices.

Friends of the Marion vacationers wonder into which classification they ought to be put. Once in a while, out of a mysterious silence, a word here or there is dropped, from which one is led to believe that the Marion boys saw plenty of scenery, natural and unnatural. They claim the beauties of Canada marvelous and add that they saw some of the most unusual animals. And, this in the "wilds" of Canada.

Meditations

OF A Married
Woman

BY HELEN ROWLAND

SAYINGS OF MRS. SOLOMON HEAR, oh my Daughter, the song of songs which every woman chaneth in her heart.

Behold, I have known much men

CROUP

little and a few men much; but HE exceedeth them all.

Lo, he is the Perfect Lover whose kisses are more tender than rose-leaves more gentle than the spring rain, yet more intensive than a thunderstorm!

He is the Prince Charming of my visions, the incarnation of all my dreams, the sturdy oak on which I rejoice to lean, the spoiled boy whom I delight to mother.

He is the understanding Pal unto whom I can bare my secrets and reveal my innermost thoughts in surety of sympathy.

He is the Thoughtful Soul who forgetteth not a word spoken upon an anniversary, who never keeps me waiting, who doeth always the graceful thing at the psychological moment, who never maketh a faux pas!

He is the Brilliant Intellect unto whom I gaze UP in admiration; yet, who harketh when I speak, cheereth when I am cheerless, laugheth when I am silly, and noteth when I am foolish.

He is the Congenial spirit who leadeth me unto the QUIET restaurants, where the food is good, the hilarity is restrained, and the jazz band getteth not upon my nerves nor shat-tereth mine ears.

He is the Gentle Philosopher who doth not require me to be an angel, neither expecteth me to be a devil, but regardeth me as a Human Being, which the Lord knoweth I AM!

He is the Inspirational Being who bringeth hyacinths to feed my soul and quoteth poetry to charm mine imagining—the happy Playboy with whom I rejoice to dance upon a holiday.

He is the mold of fashion whose chin is always aghast, whose collar con-cealeth his Adam's apple, whose garments are perfect but not zany; who adorneth my dinner table and filleth my heart with pride.

He is the Perfect Husband who packeth a trunk without weeping, never forgetteth the tickets, always praiseth the cooking, tendeth the furnace without complaint, and never yearneth for an evening out!

He is the Idealist who perceiveth not the flaws in my disposition, the ruts in my stocking, nor the rouge upon my cheek, but accepteth me "as is" and acclaimeth me perfect!

He is the World's Wonder, who never looketh at another woman!

He is the Man-Who-Never-Was!

He is my MIGHT-HAVE-BEEN!

LIKENS-POLE LANE-RD WORK IS POSTPONED

Plan To Begin Improvement This Fall Abandoned by Contractors

Work on the Likens-Pole Lane-Rd improvement in Marion, Grand Prairie and Scott Townships, contract for which was let last week, will not be started until next year, according to present plans of Brady & O'Connell, the local firm which received the contract.

Although under terms of the contract the work is not required to start before May 1, Brady & O'Connell had originally intended to get the project under way and partially completed this year. This plan has been abandoned, it was stated today.

The road project is one of the largest planned by the county commissioners in connection with this year's contract lettings. The improvement will be 4.02 miles in length and the contract price is $19,173.70. Brady & O'Connell's bid was $1,116.78 below the engineer's estimate.

In the published report of the contract letting last week a mistake was made in giving the engineer's estimate at $20,000. This figure included, in addition to the estimate, various items covering compensation and damage claims and contingent expenses. The engineer's estimate of the cost of construction was $23,590.51.
